

The Metro South Palliative Care Service are looking for a Registrar in Palliative Care to join their team. The role will require the candidate to be working at a Registrar level, working across all sites and areas of Palliative care, including community, inpatient and consultation care, as decided by the service. This role provides support to the multidisciplinary palliative care team and within the service, while also being involved in education, continuous quality improvement activities and potential research.

About Metro South Palliative Care Service

The Metro South Palliative Care Service (MSPCS) provides specialist palliative care utilising the model for population-based care developed by Palliative Care Australia. MSPCS provides consultative and direct care for patients in all hospitals in Metro South Health and provides community-based specialist palliative care across Health Service. Community services are based at Brisbane South, Redland and Logan. The MSPCS team is an interdisciplinary group of healthcare professionals who deliver collaborative patient-centred care in partnership with acute, domiciliary, aged health care providers and general practitioners.

Benefits

We offer employees competitive remuneration and generous employer superannuation contribution, benefits and incentives, career development and opportunity with outstanding support for workplace training and education within our flexible, family friendly workplaces.
