

Aotearoa Palliative Care Research Day

Sunday November 6, 2022

Christchurch Building, University of Otago, 2 Riccarton Avenue Christchurch, Canterbury

9:00 - 9:20	Registration, coffee and tea
9:20 – 9:30	Kaumātua opening of the Research Day and Karakia Welcome to Research Day	Richard/Amanda/Kaye/Salina– chair for AM
9:30 – 9:50	Juggling academic research work and clinical work	Lucy Elkin (Advanced palliative medicine trainee and PhD candidate) and Anna Garton (Palliative care CNS and Master graduate)
9:50 – 10:20	How to engage and collaborate with local Māori health providers	Cheryl Davis and Tira Albert from Tū Kotahi Māori Asthma Research Trust and Kōkiri Marae
10:20– 10: 40	Morning Tea
10:40 – 11:00	Collaboration with academic institutions	Simon Allan (Medical Director Arohanui Hospice)
11:00 – 11:20	What does collaboration across centres look like?	Waipuna, Kōkiri Marae and Te Omanga Hospice
11:20 – 11:40	Translating research into Practice, from thesis to Hospice NZ fundamentals of spiritual care	Richard Egan (Associate Professor at School of Preventive Medicine)
11:40 – 12:15	Little (but important) clinician led research projects – the joys and trials <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Salina Iupati and Denise Hewitt – intranasal fentanyl study • Sinead Donolley – qualitative studies • Richard McNeil – how to join Pharmacovigilance study
12:15 – 1:15	Lunch
1:15-1:30	Journey of a local hospice research group	TORCH group (Te Omanga Research Champions)
1:30 – 2:00	Palliative Care Aotearoa Research Network AGM – presenting purpose, vision, mission statements and terms of reference for the core group
2:00 – 4:00	Round table discussion on support for Palliative Care in Aotearoa. Possible small breakout discussion groups.	Chaired by Richard McNeil
Close Event		